To our esteemed community,

The Torah commands us to treat the deceased with the utmost respect, ensuring a proper Jewish burial (kevurah). This mitzvah, known as chesed shel emet, is considered one of the greatest acts of piety, as it is performed without any expectation of reward. The Gemara teaches that chesed shel emet is greater than all other forms of kindness because it cannot be repaid.

It is with great admiration that I bring to your attention the work of The Meis Mitzvah Fund, founded by Yossi Melohn. Yossi has dedicated himself to fulfilling this mitzvah with unwavering devotion, ensuring that every Jewish person, regardless of their financial means, can receive a proper and dignified burial according to halacha (Jewish law). His efforts have brought comfort and solace to countless families during their time of grief, upholding the sanctity of life even in death.

I urge you to open your hearts and support The Meis Mitzvah Fund in their noble endeavor. By contributing to this worthy cause, you are not only fulfilling a fundamental mitzvah but also demonstrating your commitment to the values of compassion, respect, and communal responsibility that are at the core of our faith. May your generosity be a source of blessing for you and your loved ones.
